

Banksia robur

Botanic name:

Banksia robur

Common name:

Swamp Banksia

Family:

Proteaceae

Typical height:

1 – 2 m

Typical width:

2 m

Typical growth rate:

Fast

Typical habit:

Swamps along the coast and nearby plateaus

Foliage:

Very large stiff serrated leaves which may reach 40cm long and 12cm wide.

Flowers:

Flower spikes usually appear in autumn and winter. When in bud, they appear bluish-green but turn yellow-green when flowers open.

Site requirements:

Full sun position with a reliable source of moisture. It is not considered drought resistant.

