

Hibbertia diffusa

Botanic name:
Hibbertia diffusa

Common name:
Wedge Guinea flower

Family:
Dilleniaceae

Typical height:
30cm

Typical width:
50cm

Typical growth rate:
Moderate

Typical habit:
Widespread in open forests along the coast and ranges

Foliage:
Small to medium shrub with obovate to elliptical leaves, with toothed margins

Flowers:
Yellow flowers over spring and summer

Site requirements:
Prefers sunny or partly shaded area with reasonable drainage.
Tolerates moderate frost.

