

Prostanthera cuneata

Botanic name:

Prostanthera cuneata

Common name:

Alpine mint-bush

Family:

Lamiaceae

Typical height:

1m

Typical width:

90cm

Typical growth rate:

Moderate

Typical habit:

Grows in sheltered and exposed areas, on acidic loams to stony soils

Foliage:

Long soft shaggy hairs on woody branches with shiny wedge-shaped leaves dotted with oil glands

Flowers:

Trumpet-shaped, mostly white

Site requirements:

Prefers regular watering to the base of the plant (not leaves). Frost and snow tolerant and responds well to tip pruning.

